For those who care

Written by Thomas, from Orizan on 4/27 writing on 4/17

This has ought to be my shortest chronicle yet, since there is not much to say.

The swamp spirit and forest spirit have banded together. We suspect that there is a charm or other form of control in play, put into place by the forest spirit. But we also think that there is another force altogether. The Court Of Darkness or Gr__d as I believe it to be, is controlling not only the forest spirit, but through it, getting to the swamp spirit. This is not good. We may have to do something to interfere… otherwise with 2 eledhu on one side, we are positively dead.
