Club

In club we started by trying to extinguish the smoking volcano. For the first encounter on the way, we fought some red taluses. we won. Once we were there, there was a mountain with a bunch of red creatures. Eventually the volcano spirit came in, and we were able to talk with it for a little while. We negotiated with it for a while, and it wanted us a sacrifice 100 people a year, and we were able to convince it to let me and davis sacrifice ourselves to buy one week of time. It accepted.

(p.s because of fey wording, i am not sure if this was counted as one week as in 7 days, or until the end of the week, so we could still be in trouble.)
