ITS FINALE TIME!!!!!

Club

For our first mission, we decided to investigate the part of the greenwall that disappeared. I don't think the first encounter on the way was very important because I don't remember it, so it was probably just more rainforest creatures.Once we were there, a part of the greenwall was translucent, bubbling, and translucent too. Eventually the party decided to walk through after I just ran through it and disappeared.

Once we arrived, the ground was flat and snowy for as far as the eye could see. Our divine interventions were also cut off somehow, the abilities not working. We saw the enchanters who were teleported away when the greenwall dissapeared, and somebody with a full black mask and a black cloak, and somebody with a full white mask and a white cloak. There were also three figures in grey cloaks. We confirmed they were the queen of good and The K-ng of Ev-l, along with three twilight members. They were discussing what to do with the enchanters. The Queen of Good argued that they did not belong here and they had done much good, while Ev-l argued that they were his (I think ev-l was just being himself here and being gr==dy). The twilight members were just stepping in here and there saying that it was not about what was good and what was ev-l, but what was right and what was wrong.

Eventually, Good got her side because it was entering Spring and she walked away with the enchanters. The rest of the party followed, except Ezra, who had a PD at the end of the season DI and was going to die in august if he did not stay. I also had a DI like that, but I decided to leave to write this chronicle. The greenwall then stopped bubbling, and we succeeded on the mission.

For our second mission, we decided to help the swamp spirit being assaulted by the forest and volcano spirit. On the first encounter on the way, the volcano spirit came over to ask for sacrifices to hold off the volcano. Davis and I sacrificed ourselves again, but the volcano spirit used a sorcery which was "If your oath is broken, my volcano will become your curse". I do not know enough about fey and stuff to know if this could become a problem, but it happened.

Once we were there, the forest and volcano spirit were running up to the swamp spirit and attacking it. They both had morganti, and the swamp spirit was running and its fairies and the people with shields were able to meat shield, but it took a few hits. Eventually though, it MATERIALISED MORGANTI OUT OF THIN AIR??? But anyways, it was able to land a few hits on the forest and volcano spirit with the morganti, but it eventually got morganti dropped. But it left behind a seed. With enough TC levels, we were able to figure out that the seed would grow into another swamp spirit in around 300 years. So we made a bunch of sacrifices to it.

Electives

we made a shrine to the swamp spirit.