Dear Diary,
Have I wasted my last chance? Who is the mysterious Glowing Caribou? I guessed "Protector of the Weyrwoods" and "Me" because it said "I am you." ARGH THIS IS SO CONFUSING!!! Okay let's see. I asked it "What can you tell me about you?" and it said "You already know everything." So this is my brain dump.
1. It said it was Me
2. It gave us an option: Belmorn Soldier or Weyrwood Citizen (we chose Weyrwoods)
3. My friends told me that they ran around in circles??? (No idea...)
4. We've seen many Oracles about it, and its giving us many. OH! I'll ask Gelf to help me! He can Oracle!
5. Trying to remember all of the Oracles and hints... I am pretty sure the Caribou is Me. It said it was! Hmmmmmmmmm
6. The hourglass vision about the Harbingers and The Fall.
And that's all! See you hopefully soon!
-Lynx

Dear Pen Pal Obb,
Hello! I hope you are doing well. I have some news about life! #1: I think I know who the Glowing Caribou is! If you know any Weyrwood Gods, please write back! Ooh, and maybe any Shape Shifters? Let me know! #2: The Harbinger Followers aren't causing any problems lately! That'll show my enclave to give everyone a second chance. The Harbinger Shrine, Amaranth, gave me some wise advice, so I'm passing it on to you and your friends! She said something along the lines of "You can choose who you want to be, how you want to grow. Depending on what missions you pick, you are becoming a different person. Spring is a season of growth." An example of this is our deal with the fey. We promised the High Fey something, so we had to do anything we could to keep our promise. In return, they blessed us with Fire Control and Resistance. Also, one of my party members now forever obeys the High Fey, sooooo... #3: Belmorn has showed up on our Enclave's land. They want to "be friends", but the talking ship has sailed. Please send reinforcements if you can! I think this is turning into an all-out war. #4: I dyed my hair! It's rainbow-colored now! ...And that's pretty much it! Hope you and the Lakeshore Enclave are doing well.
-Lynx Pebble, your Pen Pal :) :) :)
P.S. Did you know my Enclave's name is Lakestone? It's very similar to yours!
P.P.S. While celebrating Nigel Honeybuns III's birthday, I saw somebody who looked a lot like you! Interesting…