Hello My name is Jotunn, but most people just call me Giant, you can call me whatever! I am just your friendly nehb...Neh,Nahboar hood... I don't spell things great. Neighboarhoodly friendly giant! I am here to help, I saw a lot of people being sad lately and there are so many things to be happy about and it made me frustrated, I work in peacekeeping and its been hard with so many people being hurt and angry from the Morganti, so I have decided to take a step in and help.

I want to help everyone I can! Oh right im telling you guys about myself.

I am 24 years old or so, I am either the tallest Giantling or the Shortest Giant, so take it how you wanna, I am going to be the strongest Knight around, and I want to help people, mainly the people who are hurt the most, If you ever wanna talk im here to talk! I like to make people food and make sure people are safe so if you need a walk home or you need me to cook you a meal while you are sick, I can help!

So this is my welcoming letter to myself but written to you guys for the new year! Thank you for letting me help you.

Yours Bigly Jotunn.
