Friends
It is rash I think, to grow attached so fast. But these days were to me like no other, in kind and in sensation. You made me feel loved and welcome and valued and important, in a new way that is not attempted by my home. I say to you this: my people are of lofty goals, and will do what might best accomplish them. Speak to them in disrespect and risk war. Speak to them in appeasement and risk being trampled. Walk the delicate line, yes?There is a beauty in once-broken things, you helped me see my cracks as I could not. For this, I am of eternal gratitude. Together we are stronger than us shattered, ensure the welds between us are strong for me. You changed me, and I wish that in turn I have changed you as well. Live well, and do what needs to be done.

Family
To my family, to my brother, my mother, and to my father. I am sorry that this letter cannot be bringing good things instead, but I thought it better to send a letter of tragedy then none at all. If I am to have perished, I hope it was with purpose and honor. Brother, your courage ever causes me to be inspired. Mother, you were eternally right in saying that my conviction would take me far. Father, I will be resting at ease knowing that it is you keeping them safe. Experiencing what I did here is beyond all words. I hold in my heart no regret.

Superiors
Sir,
It is with great regret that I am relating a report of my own demise. If you hold blame, place it not on my contacts around me. The actions of them towards me were beyond a reproach. I learned more than can be put in words, not of them, but from them. They taught me openly with little restraint and the desire of friendship. But they are loathing of nothing more than lies. In summation, I point with all of me that is of value to use tact, but not deceit, or risk sundering our connection forever, and cutting us both. I commend the dwarf Ingrin as the among them the wisest, speak to them of this and open your ears to their voice. Shared peace of our peoples is ESSENTIAL.
