Hello!

Over the past week we've protected a delivery to the shrine of Balona, I believe. We also fought spiders for the Mage School. One of the mission options we did not have time for I found particularly interesting was helping train the fighters in the sparring ring to bring down the capital city, Belmorn this dueling season.

Until next time, Farewell

~Amysri